SpawGlass names new president of Senior Living and Campus Housing Division

Houston, Texas – John English has been promoted to president, Senior Living and Campus Housing Division of SpawGlass. In this role, English will continue to be directly responsible for the overall leadership of the SpawGlass Senior Living and Campus Housing Division operations. While most recently serving as senior vice president, Senior Living and Campus Housing Division, he led SpawGlass’s efforts in constructing numerous prestigious senior living communities, including The Solana at Cinco Ranch in Katy, Texas and countless campus housing projects on university campuses such as The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) and Texas A&M University-Kingsville. English has been with SpawGlass since 1974.

“John has played a key role in establishing SpawGlass’s Senior Living and Campus Housing Division and making it a successful part of our company,” said Fred Raley, chairman/CEO of SpawGlass. “He is well deserving of this promotion.”

SpawGlass is a Texas-based general contractor, construction manager, design/builder and civil contractor - with expertise in green building and Building Information Modeling (BIM), serving clients in corporate, higher education, healthcare, government/public, senior/campus living and more. Founded in 1953 by Louis Spaw and Frank Glass, the company has a lasting commitment to provide: the highest standards of quality and service to clients; a safe and enriching work environment to employees; and support and involvement in the community. With more than 550 employees statewide, SpawGlass is 100 percent employee owned and has regional offices in Austin, Houston, San Antonio and South Texas.
